

Good Hope Road

By Mandanna, Sarita

Book Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: Orion Publishing Group | From the author of TV book club pick, TIGER HILLS, an epic tale about the legacy of war, of love and friendship across the social divide and a generation of forgotten men. | At the outset of the Great War in 1914, New England Yankee James Stonebridge and Louisiana native Obadiah Nelson volunteer with the French Foreign Legion. They are among a handful of Americans who did so, young men lured by the chance of adventure and of upholding all-American values. Despite their very different backgrounds, James and Obadiah forge a friendship which helps them endure the squalor of the trenches and the brutal realities of war. Both survive but when they leave the trenches behind they are changed men. Returning to his New Hampshire farm, James becomes a recluse. Only years later, when Obadiah visits the farm, can James's son Jim begin to understand what his father went through in the muddy fields of France. Jim has fallen in love with a Madeleine, a carefree bohemian who brings light and laughter to the sombre world of the farm. But with another war looming, and the weight of his father's story heavy...
